URBAN SPORTS: A TEEN PERSPECTIVE

DO YOU LIVE IN A CITY?
Do you want to do something exciting in your free time?
17-year-old Jon Harrison tells us about urban sports.

REPORTER Jon, first of all, what are urban sports?
JON Urban sports are activities you can do in cities. Skateboarding, BMX biking and parkour – or free running – are all urban sports.

REPORTER Who does them?
JON Teenagers and people in their 20s. Urban sports are popular with young people because they like having fun with their friends and doing something active at the same time.

REPORTER Where do they practise?
JON Anywhere! You don't need a special place for urban sports. You can jump or skateboard over walls and you can cycle along roads or down steps. Every city has these things – and they are free!

REPORTER What urban sports do you do?
JON I always do parkour and I sometimes go skateboarding.

REPORTER And what do you wear?
JON Well, you don't need any special clothes. I wear jeans or shorts, T-shirts and trainers.

REPORTER Do you train very often?
JON Well, I love doing parkour, so I practise every day.

REPORTER Do you also train on cold, rainy days?
JON I don't mind going out on cold days but I hate getting wet. So I never do parkour on rainy days. Also, it's very dangerous because the surfaces are wet.

REPORTER Do you want to try BMX biking?
JON Yes, I do. Actually, I want a BMX bike for my next birthday. I enjoy doing all kinds of urban sports!
