

June 7th

Lesson sequence

Greetings

1. Introduction to Greetings: we begin by introducing common greetings such as "hello," "hi," "good morning," "good afternoon," and "good evening." Discuss when and where each greeting is appropriate, and ask a few students to introduce themselves.
2. We watch the video fro Intro, Interchange: unit 1

3. We discuss the place, the situation, what there is in the first scene.
4. SS read the script as they watch it for a second time
5. SS act it out as they read it in pairs.

- Role-Playing: Divide the class into pairs and have them role-play different greeting scenarios, such as meeting a friend, greeting a teacher, or introducing themselves to a new classmate.

- Role Reversal: Have students take turns being the greeter and the one being greeted in different situations. This helps reinforce understanding from both perspectives.

- Repetition and Review: Regularly review and practice greetings throughout the school year to ensure retention.

- Cultural Context: Discuss cultural variations in greetings, emphasizing the importance of understanding cultural differences when communicating with others.
